

North America | Retail | Enterprise

As the world's largest online marketplace, serving more than 90 million active users and transacting $2,000 in goods every second, eBay, Inc. has developed and implemented one of the most scalable, adaptable, highly available IT infrastructures in the world. Brand protection is a top priority for the company, which has implemented a portfolio of Symantec security solutions as an underlying foundation; everything from data loss prevention, to endpoint security, to managed security, to encryption technologies.
